

The American people are watching to see if the FCC has the courage to act in the interest of the people and our democracy or be led by the nose by those with deep pockets whose only interest is profits.

The FCC should act decisively to reverse the chilling trend of consolidating so much power in the hands of so few. Think of your children and grandchildren and the world they will inherit from you.